The Way That Women Work.

It's enough to wear any one out. First it's washing, in damp and draft. Then it's ironing with the hot stove and the hard work to endure. And in between washes, meals to get, house to clean, and children to tend. It's had enough for a well woman but for a weak woman it's slow torture. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases of the delicate organs which weaken women. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free of charge. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"My health is the best now that I have been four years using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was a weak, nervous, and delicate woman, and I have been cured of all my troubles. I can now do all the work I want to do, and I feel as well as I ever did. I am a great believer in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I can recommend it to all who are troubled with any of the diseases of the delicate organs which weaken women. It makes weak women strong and sick women well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets sweeten the breath.

CATARRH LOCAL AND CLIMATIC.

Nothing but a local remedy or change of climate will cure Catarrh. The specific is Ely's Cream Balm.

It is quickly absorbed. Gives relief at once. Opens and cleanses the nasal passages. Allays inflammation. Heals and protects the membrane. Restores the sense of taste and smell. No injurious drugs. Regular size, 50 cents; Family Size, $1.00, at drug stores, or by mail.

WEAVING THE NET AROUND SAMPSON.

It is now asserted that Admiral Schley sent word to Admiral Sampson the night before the battle of Santiago that he believed the Spanish fleet would come out of the harbor the next day.

Disregarding this warning, the commander-in-chief, when morning came, sailed away from the scene of impending hostilities, in the strong and speedy cruiser New York, to hold a conference with Gen. Shafter at Siboney. This is one of a series of episodes in the naval campaign in Cuban waters that tend to create the belief in the minds of those cognizant of the facts and records that, from the moment he was made commander-in-chief, Admiral Sampson was a strategist rather than a fighter. Admiral Sampson will have several other things to explain on the witness stand. For example, when it became known that Admiral Cervera was coming to this country with what was then regarded as a magnificent fleet, and it was well understood that he would seek a harbor at Santiago or Cienfuegos, Admiral Sampson—for reasons of strategy, as it was explained—chose the blockade Havana, which is on the northern side of the island, and ordered Schley to the southern side, where he was certain to meet Cervera. It is equally true that on May 19 Admiral Sampson learned from Washington that Cervera was in Santiago and was given corroborative detail of the Spaniards' presence there every day by signal service, yet it was some time before he set sail from Key West, arriving at Santiago early in June. On his arrival he saw the Colon just inside the harbor and the Spanish cruiser lay there for four hours, but Sampson did not attack. Admiral Sampson's first bit of strategy there was to sink the Merrimac with the intention of blockading the harbor of Santiago so that the Spanish fleet could not come out to fight nor the Americans get in. Even before he left Key West he wired to Admiral Schley, suggesting that a collier be sunk in the harbor, but Schley apparently did not approve the idea. At any rate he did not carry the suggestion into effect.

The battle of Santiago had been fought and won when Eaton, of the Recluse, announced that a fresh Spanish cruiser was on the horizon. Admiral Sampson's ship, the New York, had arrived on the scene. Her men were fresh, having had no hand in the battle, but Admiral Sampson ordered the Brooklyn and the Oregon to engage the supposed Spaniard. The Brooklyn had been the worst punished ship in the big fight, and Admiral Sampson knew it. The New York had not fired a shot. But Admiral Schley with his starboard battery almost completely disabled, his men worn and tired, and his ammunition depleted, was ordered to go and meet the enemy.

Admiral Sampson, in explanation of his failure to go out himself has said that he knew that the approaching vessel was not a Spanish vessel, but an Austrian cruiser. But it may be pertinent asked, if he knew it was a friendly ship, why was it necessary to order Schley to meet her at all?

BIBLE REVISION.—The completed American revision of the Bible was issued yesterday. The English revision companies long ago disbanded, but the American committee maintained its organization, and, so far as practicable, continued its work. The preferences of the latter have been heretofore given in an appendix to the ordinary revised version; so marked was the favor with which they were received that they are now incorporated in the text, after being very thoroughly revised. The day of concession to the other reviewers having passed, the American committee has gone far beyond its original work, and has introduced into the text numerous emendations hitherto suppressed for the sake of harmony, says Rev. Dr. C. B. Blackall in the Philadelphia Record. The word "Jehovah" takes the place of "Lord" and "God" and thus "this personal name, with its wealth of sacred associations, is now restored to the place in the sacred text to which it has an unquestionable claim." The word "sheol" is uniformly used for "the grave," "the pit" and "hell." Numerous verbal changes clarify the text at points where previously there was obscurity.

TO TRY THE RAPIDS IN A BOAT.—P. M. Nissen will attempt on next Saturday to navigate the Whirlpool Rapids of Niagara river with a steamboat of his own construction, and at the same time will try to take soundings of the whirlpool and rapids, a thing many times attempted, but never successfully accomplished. Nissen became famous last summer by shooting the whirlpool and rapids in an open boat, the only person who ever survived such a feat. For various reasons Nissen chose to perform this feat under the nom de plume of "Bower," but some of his friends in Chicago, proud of his daring, told him name, and he has preferred since to be known under his real name. Nissen is a Dane, a bookkeeper by occupation and a college graduate.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I ask him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, which is sold in a small atomizer. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the most ideal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Don't be satisfied with temporary relief from indigestion, Colic, Dyspepsia Cure permanently and completely removes this complaint. It relieves permanently because it allows the tired stomach perfect rest. Nothing won't rest the stomach. Nothing removes supplies from the food we eat. The reliable way to help the stomach is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat and can't help but do you good. For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.
